Council To Get Requests From Murray Firemen

Murray City Council will be the next stop for a series of demands from disgruntled city firefighters here.

A city council public safety committee met behind closed doors Thursday night to talk about the demands and the chairman of that committee, Billy Balentine, said today he expects to take a set of recommendations to a council meeting, possibly as early as next Thursday.

Murray city firefighters have asked that they be paid on par with city policemen of equal rank, plus they want increases in "longevity pay" for veteran firefighters and hikes in "call-back pay," extra money given to men who fight fires while off duty. Firefighters have also asked for an increase in their clothing allowance. Firefighters point out the longevity and call-back items are not increases at all — rather they'll be now be paid what they once were for those duties.

Firefighters say they're also unhappy over their recent raise, 7 percent, compared to the amount Murray Fire Chief Jackie Cooper received, 18 percent. City officials said Cooper's pay hike brought him in line with some other city department heads.

Balentine said today that firefighters' requests "have one more committee to go through, the budget committee."

"We did consider all their requests last night," Balentine said. "I did not see any problem with them. The whole committee was pretty receptive. We have found some money since this began." Balentine referred to the city council's move in its last meeting not to buy a new fire truck now.

Balentine said he has talked to some members of the council's budget committee, chaired by Marshall Jones. Steve Yarbrough sits on both the public safety and budget committee.

Contacted today, Yarbrough said any recommendations will ultimately have to be made to the full council. "We decided that nothing specific should be said until next Thursday," Yarbrough said.

"By and large we have a good fire department here. But a big thing is the cost factor and what do you get for the additional money," Yarbrough said.

The councilman added, "We're trying to keep everyone happy within our budget limitations." He questioned why firefighters didn't express their displeasure with the council during the time this year's city budget was being written.

Balentine said today that most committee members Thursday night seemed receptive to pay for firefighters being on par with city policemen.

A member of a committee made up of firefighters from all shifts, Jerry Jones, said today he is optimistic the public safety committee will recommend that the council okay most of their requests.

"I don't think what we're asking for is unreasonable," Jones said.

Agency Agrees With City's Engineers

EPA To Urge Building Of New Sewage Plant

By DEBBIE N. LEE
Staff Reporter

The Environmental Protection Agency has concurred with the findings of the city's new engineers, G. Reynolds Watkins Consulting Engineers of Lexington, concerning the cost-effectiveness of building a new sewage treatment plant for Murray instead of expanding the present plant, according to Mayor Melvin B. Henley.

In a letter to Dr. Robert E. Blanz, director of the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources, Division of Water Quality, an official of the Atlanta EPA office stated that the office is ready to approve the facility plan with a recommendation that a new plant be built.

Before the approval is final, the EPA advised that the city evaluate another process, an oxidation ditch treatment process, in addition to the others presently under consideration.

Representatives of the Atlanta office of the EPA, state DNR personnel, Murray officials and the engineers recently met to discuss the alternatives facing the city — the building of a new plant or the rebuilding of the existing facility.

According to Henley, the group toured the present sewage plant and concluded that expanding the plant would pose a problem because of the lack of space inside the existing buildings and the unavailability of land for some additional structures which were proposed in the expansion project.

The expansion was proposed by Chester Engineers of Coraopolis, Pa., in August 1976.

The Watkins report indicates that an additional $750,000 in renovation and additional equipment not included in the original proposal would be necessary to meet EPA standards of treatment if the city decides to expand the old plant.

Since this omission was found in the planning stages of the project, the cost can be included in the project request, Henley said. Three-fourths of the cost of the project will be covered by a federal grant with the city picking up the tab for the remaining one-fourth.

G. Reynolds Watkins also concluded that operation of the existing plant after expansion would be approximately 10 percent more expensive than operation of a new plant treating the same quantity and quality of waste. This differs from the original study projection that the new plant would be 11 percent more expensive to operate than an expansion of the existing plant.

Factors on which Watkins based its opinion were the higher power consumption of the old plant because of inefficiencies of older equipment, increased labor costs of the older plant operation and frequent replacement of existing old equipment because of breakdowns.

In addition, Watkins found that operation of a new treatment plant would have a lower increased cost per month for customers than operation of an expanded old plant. This is in opposition with the original estimate of a higher increased customer cost if the new plant option was chosen.

The location of a new sewage treatment facility has been discussed at previous meetings of the Murray Common Council. Henley earlier proposed a site north of the present facility and further downstream along Bee Creek.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT — The Environmental Protection Agency has notified the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources that approval of a facility plan for a sewage treatment plant in Murray is pending, according to Mayor Melvin B. Henley. The EPA will recommend that a new plant be built to replace the present plant, located off of Highway 94 East, shown above. The other alternative involved expansion of the existing plant.

U.S. Unemployment Is Down Slightly To 5.8, January Report Shows

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate declined slightly to 5.8 percent in January, showing the slowdown in the economy that the Carter administration is planning had not yet begun to occur, a government report showed today.

The jobless rate in December was 5.9 percent, and the Labor Department noted in its report that unemployment has hovered at just below 6 percent for the past six months. It has been at the 5.8 percent level twice previously in recent months.

However, the administration predicts that unemployment will rise to 6.2 percent during this year and remain at that level in 1980 as a result of government efforts to retard growth of the economy to help control inflation.

Both the percentage of the population who had jobs, 59.3 percent, and the share of the population in the labor force, 63.7 percent, were at all-time highs.

The Labor Department said total employment increased during the month by 450,000, with gains occurring in most major industries. Total employment was put at 96.3 million, while the number of Americans seeking jobs was 5.9 million.

Adult men accounted for most of the job gains in January, although unemployment declined among all population groups.

Employment in the last two years increased at a 4.1 percent annual rate, which the administration said was virtually unprecedented in peacetime.

The proportion of the working-age population employed in 1978 rose to 59 percent. Total employment grew by 3.3 million, outstripping an increase in the labor force of 2.75 million.

The percentage of women in the labor force — those either working or seeking employment — rose 1.5 percent last year to 50.1 percent, passing the 50 percent mark for the first time.

But President Carter and his advisers say the substantial gains in employment in the last two years came at a cost of worsening inflation, because the speed of the increase helped push wages up faster than justified by worker productivity.

For this reason, they say slower economic growth is necessary to help restrain the creation of new jobs and to help reduce the upward pressure on wages and prices.

State's Senators Say Dark-Fired Acreage Reduction Not Enough

By LOWELL ATCHLEY
Staff Reporter

Kentucky's two senators say the U.S. Department of Agriculture didn't go far enough in reducing acreage next year on dark-fired tobacco.

USDA has agreed to reduce acreage allotments for dark-fired tobacco by 15 percent this year, Associated Press reported today.

Dark-fired growers in Western Kentucky and Tennessee, displeased over recent low prices offered for their leaf, have been pushing for acreage reductions of up to 20 percent to lessen supply and increase prices. Markets here and throughout the dark tobacco belt have sputtered since opening in mid-January.

U.S. Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., said early today, "This decision falls short of what I thought was necessary. The farmers from Western Kentucky were very convincing in their arguments for even greater reductions. They're the ones who have to deal with the situation on a day to day basis and I think they understand probably better than anyone else."

A committee of growers and warehousemen from the eastern and western districts of the dark tobacco belt went to Washington early this week and met with USDA officials, Ford, U.S. Sen. Walter "Dee" Huddleston, D-Ky., and U.S. Rep. Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky. The entourage from tobacco producing counties included one Calloway County grower, Jim Kelly, Route 3, Murray.

Huddleston said early today, "I am disappointed the reductions did not go further but we must recognize there were varying recommendations from farmers which had a bearing on the secretary's (Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland) decision. If this action doesn't significantly improve the situation, my subcommittee on production, marketing and stabilization of prices will look in the matter. We have a very basic problem with supply and demand and I'm afraid a 15 percent reduction simply isn't enough."

Ford promised that "if the situation gets worse, I'm ready to go back to Secretary Bergland's door."

According to a spokesman in Ford's office, USDA has directed Regional Tobacco Director Paul Donovan to visit tobacco auctions in Kentucky and Tennessee and "will personally oversee grading operations when sales resume."

"Donovan will be available to discuss problem areas with fire-cured producers on auction floors," the spokesman said. He added that

Donovan's presence should insure "grading uniformity and maintain consistency with office standards."

Growers have cited over-production as one reason for low prices. While in Washington, growers proposed: an acreage reduction; strict enforcement of quotas, possibly measuring tobacco rather than accepting grower certification with spot checks; and sending USDA personnel to supervise grading of dark-fired leaf.

Growers say sales should resume here Monday. They add that USDA measures taken this week should have a positive effect on the market.

Growers have been mainly unhappy with prices offered for lower grades of tobacco (lugs).

Nationwide, acreage reductions on dark-fired tobacco will go from 32,643 acres last year to 27,771 acres this year and on dark air-cured, from 13,267 to 13,345, a slight increase.

Much of the nation's dark-fired tobacco, used primarily for chewing products and snuff in this country, is produced in the eastern and western districts of Kentucky and Tennessee. About half of the crop is exported each year for use in foreign smoking products.

House Expected To Pass Measure Putting Limit On Tax Increases

By MARIA BRADEN
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky House was expected to enact legislation today placing a lid on property tax increases.

The measure would limit local taxing districts to an annual revenue increase of 4 percent, unless voters agreed to more.

Local officials who wanted to set a higher tax rate would either have to reduce the rate or place the question on the ballot if petitioned to do so by 10 percent of the voters in the last presidential election.

Meanwhile, the House Thursday enacted a measure reducing state traffic fines and court costs. Since both chambers have now passed similar measures, traffic violators are sure to get a break.

The House measure lops $5 off the traffic fine and cuts court costs by $7.50 for an overall reduction of $12.50 in contested cases. The House and Senate measures differ slightly on some provisions, which will be resolved in the other chamber or ironed out in a conference committee.

The House defeated an amendment by Rep. Claudia Riner, D-Louisville, that would have clipped an additional $2.50 from the standard traffic fine.

The legislative action comes in response to public outcry over a $15 increase in fines and increased court costs enacted by the 1978 General Assembly.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed one minor bill during a brief session Thursday. The measure would allow local governments to use state price contracts in making purchases until a new model procurement code takes effect next year.

The House approved its first Senate bill, to require any state official hired after April 15 in any year to file a financial statement within 45 days of employment. The bill was amended to allow employees of local school districts to serve in the Legislature, and must go back to the Senate for concurrence.

Carroll suggested cutting nearly $23 million from state agency budgets, and making up the rest from surplus funds and by deferring capital construction projects.

An interim legislative subcommittee also held a meeting Thursday, and proposed that the lieutenant governor not automatically be given the full powers of governor when the chief executive is out of state.

Coincidentally, the subcommittee meeting came in the midst of the Eight Murrays have been named by Gov. Julian Carroll to the 382-member Governor's Task Force on State Parks Development.

The force will make recommendations to the governor on requirements for state recreational facilities, where new sites for such facilities may be located and how existing facilities may be improved.

The Murrays are: Harold G. Doran Jr., Ronnie Jackson, Grayson McClure, Margie Majors, A. W. Simmons Jr., Helen Spann, J. W. Wilham and Dr. Hal E. Houston.

Other area people who have been named to the task force include: Daryl Armstrong, Golden Pond; Karen Cissell, Carl Hamilton and Gene Willit, Benton; Virginia Alexander, Smith Broadbent Jr., Zeller Cossey, Juanita Oates and Brent Thompson, Cadiz; and John McDermitt and Bob Cherry, Paducah.

Don't Get Rid Of Your Overcoats Yet, Phil The Groundhog Sees His Shadow

By DAVE TOMLIN
Associated Press Writer

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punxsutawney Phil saw his shadow today, and according to the legend that means the nation is in for six more weeks of snow and cold.

The Groundhog Day forecast came as no surprise to several hundred onlookers who waited to hear the groundhog's verdict in several inches of snow and toe-numbing sub-zero temperatures.

Phil's official guardians, the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club, insisted that although skies were cloudy here, Phil had seen "a pale shadow" and predicted "six more weeks of mild winter weather."

Phil himself did not emerge voluntarily from his burrow on Gobbler's Knob, but was trundled out on a special sliding drawer and hung limply in the hands of a club member while the club president delivered the official word.

Local tradition insists Phil is the same critter that began the annual happening 92 years ago, although most groundhogs live seven or eight years.

Phil spends most of the year in a warm enclosure at the Punxsutawney Library and Museum.

Thursday night, he was taken into the cold and lodged in a heated burrow on Gobbler's Knob, south of town, in preparation for his early-morning appearance.

Special Program Presented At Meet, Music Department

By Kay Carman

The Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club met at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 16, at the club house with Mrs. Joe Dick presiding in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. C. C. Lowry.

Miss Rebecca Dublin was secretary pro tem. A letter of thanks from Principal Mary Ryan for the "Nutcracker" matinee for young school children was read. Reports from standing committees were given. Ms. Carole Hahn, Chairman of the Style Show, previewed plans for this year's show to be held on March 20th.

Mrs. Jack Uddberg, vice chairman and chairman of the program committee introduced Mrs. James C. Hart, program leader for the "Romantic Era."

Mrs. Hart described conditions of the time as they related to literature and the arts and introduced guest pianist, Mrs. Don Johnson who opened the program with an introductory passage from a Prelude by Chopin (1810-1849) who early on was an exponent of the romantic idiom. Before he was twenty years old he had composed music for the dancing dance of the day, the waltz.

Mrs. Donald Brock and Charles Thurman, a guest performer, exhibited the waltz.

Two skits directed by Richard Valentine, also a guest, demonstrated the evolution of changed attitudes of the era. Costumes for the actors were from the Wardrobe of the Drama Department of Murray State University. Mrs. Johnson played background music by Chopin appropriate for the various scenes. History was proven the work of the inspired, young, controversial composer to be both discrete and classically pure.

The setting of the first skit is the parlor of a socially prominent family in the year 1830. The two young girls in the home are sternly lectured by their father on the deterioration of morality in general and the evils of the waltz in particular. They are admonished to eschew the literary output of the liberal element — Byron, Balzac and Victor Hugo and by all means not to emulate the manners of their heroine of the avant-garde, George Sand. Rather, they are admonished to embrace the virtues espoused in the literary work of Pope.

Nevertheless, it is the parents, dressed in their finery who are off for a gala evening at the theatre where the controversial, yet immensely popular play by Victor Hugo is being staged.

The second skit is set on the island of Majorca in the parlor of Frederic Chopin and George Sand in the fall of 1838, their liaison having begun the previous summer. The characters are Chopin, Sand and her son and daughter.

The young people are amused by an "old" 1830 newspaper clipping they have found describing the controversial yet successful theatrical season of Victor Hugo, as by this time Hugo has earned rather general acceptance and wide respectability. The mother admonishes her children to develop their creative abilities in their own way, and ceaselessly prods and scolds Chopin to compose, to create. When the children gleefully dance the waltz, giggling all the while, Sand is impatient. After all, "the waltz is so passe." (The Blue Danube was composed in 1867.)

These subtle presentations were informative and entertaining.

During the social hour, refreshments were served to more than 40 persons present. The table, overlaid with a handblocked cloth in paisley print, was centered with a three-branched candelabrum and a Lladro porcelain Cinderella.

The piece de resistance was an Italian cream cake made by Mrs. Don Bennett, chairman of hostesses. The silver punch and coffee services were at either end. Mrs. Uddberg poured the punch. The buffet held both hot and cold hors d'oeuvres, cheeses, and confections with all recipes from the Murray Woman's Club Cook Book.

Baker Home Scene Meeting Tau Phi Lambda Sorority

Mrs. Bettye Baker opened her home for the meeting of the Tau Phi Lambda Sorority, Woodmen of the world, Unit 827, held on Tuesday, Jan. 23, with Ann Spann, this year's president, presiding.

The scrap book chairman, Jean Richerson, reported that the scrapbook will be ready to take to the convention to be held at the Southside Holiday Inn, Louisville, April 4, 5, and 6. Sara Alexander and Donna Garland were elected delegates to this convention.

Plans were started for the annual Kentucky Little Miss Pageant to be held May 19 and 20 with Judy Scruggs as chairman.

Sara Alexander was elected as member at large for the Executive Council to meet in March.

The service project for January will be baby items to be taken to the Red Cross for distribution. Magazines will also be donated to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital for patient use.

Judy Scruggs was selected as Ideal Sorority Sister for 1978. This award was presented to her by Martha Andrus, last year's winner.

Donna Garland won the door prize and Marilyn Herndon was cohostess for the meeting.

Also present, not previously mentioned, were Diana Lyons, Loretta Jobs, and Linda Fain.

HEALTH

Try the best tranquilizer

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm writing to ask if you can help me. My doctor of 30 years has been giving me Valium for the past eight years. I have taken it in good faith not knowing one could become addicted to it, thinking I could stop without any adverse effects. I take 5 milligrams in the morning and at night.

Last week I decided I would stop taking this drug. But after viewing a TV program, I was very upset with all the accounts that taking this drug will cause withdrawal symptoms and that a person could have convulsions and many unpleasant things happen. This worries me.

I cut the dosage in half and am now taking one half in the morning and one half at night. But I do feel a bit shaky and nervous.

I am very disappointed in my doctor for doing this to me. Also, if this drug is so dangerous, why in the name of heaven do doctors give it to us? I am very confused about this and I certainly do not want to continue taking Valium. What should I do? Many people, I am sure, would like to have your opinion on this matter so please answer.

DEAR READER — Let me say at the outset that I am not at all fond of people taking tranquilizers of any type. Even so, there are temporary situations when the temporary use of such agents is beneficial.

I don't like to use the word addicting because that involves definitions. I would prefer to say that a person who takes most tranquilizers over a long period of time can develop psychological and physiological dependency on such medicines. That includes Valium.

This is not particularly new to the medical profession since the entire barbiturate group has the same effect. Anyone who has been taking barbiturates for a long period of time in a reasonably large dosage may also have withdrawal symptoms.

A few decades ago some informed individuals knew that if they took large doses of barbiturates and stopped them that they could produce convulsions. This was used by some unscrupulous individuals to simulate epileptic attacks to avoid military service.

The proper way to get off most of these medicines is gradual withdrawal, which I see is what you are doing. It's the abrupt stopping of the medicine that leads to withdrawal reactions.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 12-2, Sedatives, Hypnotics and Tranquilizers: The Pill Problem. This will give you more information on all of the different medicines that interact in this way. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, 10019.

Alcohol falls into this same group. Alcohol, tranquilizers and sedatives all tend to depress the functions of the brain. They interact and that's why people who take tranquilizers or sedatives should not drink alcohol.

The other suggestion I'd like to make to readers who feel they need to take tranquilizers is to re-examine their lifestyle. Many people are taking tranquilizers and drinking coffee or tea or colas. Caffeine, present in coffee, stimulates the brain and has essentially the opposite action on your nervous system as tranquilizers. The best tranquilizer many people can get is to stop drinking these beverages.

His Unsnug Rug Draws an Ugh

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a friend who wears a hairpiece that makes him look ridiculous?

The man I have in mind has a terrific personality and is happily married to a beautiful, intelligent woman.

He must care about his appearance or he wouldn't have bought a hairpiece in the first place. He can well afford the best, but instead he wears one that looks cheap, is too dark, too full, and doesn't fit. He looks laughable, but I like him so much that it bothers me.

Abby, what would you do if he were your friend?

ANONYMOUS, PLEASE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: I would assume that since he is married to an intelligent woman, if he looked ridiculous to HER, she would surely tell him. I'd curb my compulsion to "help" him, and would keep my well-meaning nose out of his ill-fitting hairpiece.

DEAR ABBY: My friend and I have a problem. We want to know how to attract guys.

If you're loud, they think you're a big mouth. If you're quiet, they don't notice you. If you tell a guy you like him, he says you're bugging him. If you don't tell him, how is he supposed to know?

Thanks for any help you can give us.

BEWILDERED IN BRENTWOOD

DEAR BEWILDERED: The secret is to get the guy interested in YOU. First, get him to talk about himself, his work and his hobbies. Feed him questions and he'll open up like a flower. The more he talks, the more convinced he'll become that you are the most interesting conversationalist he's ever met.

DEAR ABBY: Our 14-year-old daughter (I'll call her Meg) has been corresponding with an English pen pal for nearly a year. Derrick is 16. She found his name and address in a magazine.

Well, it seems that Meg told Derrick a lot of things in her letters that were not true. For example, that we were very wealthy, lived on a 3,000-acre ranch and kept horses, etc. Actually, we are far from rich and live in a three-bedroom home in a project in New Jersey. (By "we" I mean my husband and I, Meg and her two brothers, an older sister and Grandma.)

Derrick TELEPHONED Meg to tell her that he was coming to visit us! She broke down and told us, and of course we have no room for this English fellow. I am a nervous wreck and could cheerfully wring Meg's neck, but that won't solve anything.

How can we head off Derrick?

MEG'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Either telephone or cable Derrick and advise him to postpone his visit. Then have Meg write him a long, true-confessions type letter to set the record straight. And tell Meg that fantasies are lovely, but they're like dream castles — fun to build, but you can't live in them.

Do you hate to write letters of condolences, congratulations, and thanks. It's not difficult when you let Abby guide you in her booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Wedding Vows Will Be Read March 23

Miss Judy Ann Brown and Randy Herndon

Mrs. Barbara Nell Brown of Mayfield Route 5 announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her eldest daughter, Judy Ann, to Randy Herndon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Herndon of Murray Route 6. Miss Brown is the daughter of the late Carl Dennis Brown of Mayfield.

The bride-elect, a 1976 graduate of Symsonia High School, attended Murray State University and is now employed at Fisher-Price Toys in Murray.

Mr. Herndon, a 1976 graduate of Calloway County High School, attended Murray State University and is presently employed at WSJP Radio, Murray.

The wedding will be solemnized on Friday, March 23, at the Sinking Spring Baptist Church. A reception will follow the ceremony.

All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the wedding and the reception.

Mr. & Mrs. Fox Married 60 Years

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fox observed their 60th wedding anniversary on Thursday, Jan. 25. They reside on Hazel Route 1. No formal celebration was held.

The couple was married on Jan. 25, 1919, by the Rev. Ed Outland in Stewart County, Tenn.

Mrs. Fox, the former Katie Ross, is the daughter of the late R. L. Ross and Mary Retta Green Ross of Trigg County. Mr. Fox, a retired farmer, is the son of the late B. M. Fox and Liza Shaw Fox of Stewart County.

The anniversary couple attends the Hazel Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox have one son, Jesse Fox of Hazel; four daughters—Mrs. Fred (Cornelia) Tish, Ona, Fla.; Mrs. Floyd (Geneva) Futrell, Cadiz; Mrs. Robert (Nola) Howell, Washington, Ill.; and Mrs. Ron (Betty) Watson, Hammond, Ind.; 12 grandchildren; seven great grandchildren.

NOW AT HOME

Orfield Byrd is now at his home on Miller Avenue, Murray, after having been a patient at the Vanderbilt Hospital, Nashville, Tenn.

How about a lift in the middle of the week?

It's so encouraging to hear people tell the healing they've had from trusting God's care. To hear uplifting readings from the Bible, and from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. To join together in hymns of joy.

There's nothing like it for some midweek inspiration. We'd love to see you there.

Pastors First Anniversary
At Blood River Baptist Church

We, The Blood River Baptist Church would like the public to know that Jerry Norsworthy has been serving as pastor for one year as of Sunday, Feb. 4, 1979.

Jerry, truly a man of God, is a great asset to the church. We are very lucky to have him. He stayed faithful to God when his wife, Marie died in January, 1978. He came to Blood River shortly after her death.

Then he remarried in June, 1978 to a very sweet and dear person, Martha Norsworthy. She's just as dedicated to God as Jerry is.

They have two boys, Jimmy and Jeffery, and a daughter, Carol. When you get to know them you really love them.

Since Jerry has been with us we have had thirty-six additions to the church. The Sunday School, a year ago was tremendously down, and now we hardly ever go under forty in Sunday School every Sunday. So you can see we are growing.

The church has started almost all the mission programs. We have Mission Friends, G.A.'s, R.A.'s, and Baptist Women's Group and soon we'll be starting Ateens and a B.Y.W. group, and a Brotherhood for the men. So if you don't have a church home, thinking of changing churches, please LOOK our way.

Self-Serving

WHEN THOSE self-service gasoline stations started popping up, something at the backs of our minds told us to be careful.

But we weren't sure exactly what worried us.

Now comes news from Washington that soon half of all American motorists will be pumping their own gasoline, and that figure could be higher than 75 per cent by 1985.

Wait a minute!

When the self-serve filling stations first appeared in 1975, it was hailed as a great idea for cutting down the costs of gasoline, even if ever-so-slightly.

But if full-service stations are forced out of business by self-servers, how soon before all gas prices are the same?

The Story Of

Calloway County

1822-1976 By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1976

"In the latter part of 1863 a small detachment of Federals, numbering about 300, took possession of Murray, and threw up earthworks near the town, which they occupied for a short time. This was the only force of regular troops stationed in the town during the war.

"About 800 men from Calloway County joined the southern army, many of them going in squads, and enlisting in different regiments at different places. Several companies were recruited in the county, the first of which was raised early in 1861, by Capt. C. C. Bowman. The other officers were C. P. Duncan, first lieutenant; C. G. T. Manning, second lieutenant; Elias Hopkins, third lieutenant. They numbered at the time of organization about 80 of the very flower of youth of Calloway County. This company served one year in Virginia under Gen. Dick Taylor, but participated in no engagements of any note.

"Company H of the Third Kentucky Infantry was organized shortly after the breaking out of the war, and left for the front in April, 1861. It was officered as follows: Captain, G. A. C. Holt, afterward promoted colonel of the regiment; first lieutenant, T. A. Miller, afterwards captain; second lieutenant, John P. Mathewson, and third lieutenant, Abner Duncan. The company numbered 87 men, only about 25 of whom returned at the close of the war, the rest having fallen at Shiloh, Baton Rouge, Vicksburg, Oxford, Fort Pillow, Selma, Macon, Tishomingo Creek and other bloody battles in which the celebrated Kentucky Confederate Brigade participated. This gallant company took part in the campaigns of Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, and Kentucky, and served from the beginning until the close of the war.

"Company G, 7th Kentucky Infantry, was recruited in 1862, and numbered about 65 men. The officers were J. M. Chambers, captain; David Nowlen, first lieutenant; James Walston, second lieutenant. This company formed part of the Kentucky Brigade, and took part in the campaigns and engagements mentioned above.

"Another company belonging to the 7th Regiment was organized in 1862, and commanded by Manoaah Swan. The original membership was only about 40, over half of whom were killed during the period of their service.

'Red Tape' Blues

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hopelessly entangled in government red tape, James Stewart gave up and sold the feed business he'd operated for 25 years. He became a coal operator.

"Now I'm stuck again," Stewart grumbled. "I thought I was gonna get rich like a lot of folks."

He's strip mining a 300-acre mountain farm, a gift from his father, and holds a lease on the 200-acres adjoining it at Flat Lick. Six employees work the land, using $1.2 million worth of equipment that Stewart went into debt to acquire.

"I started with $300,000 in January 1977, figuring that was enough. I shudda known better because of what happened before."

Stewart was making a comfortable living as a feed dealer until the "larger mills began pushing for legislation to drive the little guys into bankruptcy. They got me with a regulation requiring you to guarantee the ingredients, that each batch of meal had so much protein, so many minerals. It'd take a full-time chemist to do that. I couldn't afford one."

Stewart claims he's trapped again, "by mining laws so tough, nobody can comply. The big companies are behind it. They want to wipe out fellers like myself so they'd have a monopoly and be free to charge what they like."

Before digging his first ton of coal, Stewart was required to post a reclamation bond. "I bought a $67,000 bond from the surety company and then had to put up cash for the bond. Why do you need the bond if you still have to cough up the dough?"

He believes land should be restored after it's mined "but the state and federal governments should help pay the costs. They're outta sight."

Stewart estimates he spent approximately $8,000 on a reclamation plan which called for such things as equipment to keep silt out of Stinking Creek.

"We built the structure 15 feet higher than specified to be on the safe side. And we've seeded the area twice."

Stewart, who was producing 2,000 tons of coal a month, now has 5,000 tons uncovered and no market for it.

He survived a rail car shortage from October through December, then "the cars arrived and we had no orders."

"Nobody knows what's happened. We're in a buyer's market and they're buying at their price. Coal that once sold for $51 a ton is going for $22.42."

Some experts attribute the decline to an increase in freight rates by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, sending utilities shopping for coal from mines served by other lines.

"I'll go along with that idea," Stewart said. "The increase is passed along to the producer and he can't produce for any less than he's doing today."

Stewart estimates there's about three million tons of coal on his farm but "what good does that do me when I can't move it?"

He's not giving up. "I got a wife and three kids to support. And at 47, it's not easy to find something that will put bread on the table."

Disciples In The World

Our Lord is very much concerned about the relationship of His disciples to Himself, to other Christians, and to the world.

The Commission — John 17:18-21

In His matchless intercessory prayer Christ did not ask God to remove His disciples from this world. Such a procedure would have deprived them of the discipline which they needed so much. The world would have been greatly impoverished without the Christian testimony which their presence here provided. He prayed that His disciples might be set apart to the specific task of representing Him effectively. God's truth constituted the means through which they were to be sanctified. Christ's representatives needed special cleansing grace to make them vessels fit for the use of the Master. When governed by God's Word they were able to conform to His will for them.

As the Father had sent His Son into the world, Christ was sending forth His disciples as His messengers. He commissioned them to hold forth the Word of life to the unsaved. What a high and holy privilege, as well as a tremendous responsibility, it is to be Christ's messengers to those who need the message of the glorious gospel!

One is impressed deeply by the fact that, even when Christ was facing the cross, He prayed not only for the disciples who accompanied Him, but also for those who would be receiving Him as their Savior during the centuries to come. The entire company of future believers would need the same

If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 East Dayton Street, West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: In all literature which my husband and I have read on the subject of Medicare, we keep reading that Medicare will not help pay for "non-covered levels of care." No where have we read a good explanation as to what non-covered levels of care refer. Could you explain this terminology to us and tell us to what type of care it applies? — B.F.

The term refers to institutional care which is medically inappropriate because it could have been furnished equally well in an alternative location (in other words, a skilled nursing facility or in the patient's own home), or to institutional care which is not medically necessary because it is not primarily for treatment of an illness or injury but for meeting personal care needs.

This information and much more is available in our Guide to Medicare, and all is explained in easy to understand question and answer form. To order, send $1.75 to Heartline's Guide to Medicare, 114 East Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Please allow six to eight weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: I am a 53-year-old widow. I was disabled in an automobile accident when I was 47. My husband died in December and I have very limited funds, since he had a long illness which took almost all of our meager savings. Would it be possible for me to meet the requirements for Social Security widow's benefits? — H.C.

A widow may be considered disabled only if she has an impairment which is so severe that it would ordinarily prevent a person from working and which is expected to last at least 12 months. Vocational factors such as age, education and previous work experience cannot be considered in deciding whether a widow is disabled.

In addition, a widow must have been disabled before the death of her husband or within seven years after his death. However, if the widow received mother's benefits for having a child in her care under 18, her disability must have begun within seven years after this benefit ended. If the widow meets the above requirements, she is eligible to apply for disabled widow's benefits at age 50.

HEARTLINE: In a few months, I will be 62 and I really want to retire and enjoy my leisure after many years of working. My husband is already retired. I have worked for over 25 years under Social Security and should have a fairly good retirement check. I am also going to be eligible for wife's benefits on my husband's account. Will I be able to draw both benefits when I turn 62? — G.M.

You can draw benefits under both accounts but not the full benefit under both accounts. You would receive your full Social Security benefits on your own work record. Then, if your own benefit is less than what you would be eligible for under wife's benefits, you would receive the difference between the two, so that your total Social Security benefit would be equal to the percentage you would be eligible to receive under wife's benefits. If your own Social Security benefit is larger than what the wife's benefit is, then you would not be eligible for any wife's benefits.

Slow Start Dooms Racers; 17 Losses Tie Previous Mark

By TONY WILSON
Sports Editor

It isn't difficult for one basketball coach to be sympathetic to another basketball coach, particularly during a bad season. J. D. Barnett knows the feeling.

"It's rough when you are losing," said Barnett, the Louisiana Tech coach, after his squad added another notch to a turnabout season by whipping Murray State 73-60 last night in the Sports Arena.

Tech finished just 6-21 last season, Barnett's first year as head coach, but the triumph over the Racers lifted the Bulldogs to 12-6 this year and gave them a sweep of the two-game series. They defeated Murray 109-88 Jan. 10.

The Racers' loss tied a record, though a dubious one. Their 17th defeat (against three wins) equalled the old mark of 17 losses in a single season by a Murray team. Both last season's and the 1975-76 squad lost that number under Fred Overton.

Murray was in a hole almost before from the beginning. Louisiana Tech raced to an 18-6 advantage and at one time led by 19 points — 37-18 with 1:33 left — in the first half.

"We wanted to come out and control the tempo," said Murray coach Ron Greene, "but I have no idea why we were so flat. We knew they had the excellent quickness that we don't have, and we needed to set the pace."

The Bulldogs hit a whopping 70 percent of their shots (14 of 20) in the first half, compared to just 39 percent (9 of 23) by Murray.

That 19-point edge proved to be Tech's biggest, but it equalled the advantage three more times in the second half. Joe Ivory, a 6-7 junior, hit two free throws to push his team ahead 50-31 with 11:07 left.

Murray rebounded to outscore the visitors 10-3 over the next four minutes, and freshman Kenney Hammonds' layup pulled the Racers within 53-41.

They even managed to edge as close as 11 points, but by then less than two minutes remained and Tech players were likely thinking of the return trip home.

"We didn't talk much about this game at all," said Barnett. "We've got a big (Southland) conference game with Arkansas State Saturday, so it would have been easy to look past this one."

Hammonds finished as the game's leading scorer with 22 points. "I hope people will come out to the rest of our games to watch Kenney, if nothing else," said Greene. "He's really something."

John Randall (10) was the only other Racer in double figures. Louisiana Tech, placing all its starters in twin figures, was paced by Ivory and 6-9 center Victor King with 16 points, followed by Johnny Farrell with 14, Emerson Wafer with 13 and Dave Simmons with 12.

"King is the best center we have played against," said Greene, and statistics backed the statement. King entered the contest with a 22.3 scoring average and field-goal shooting accuracy of 62 percent.

Tech, as a team, hit 25-of-42 attempts from the field for 59.5 percent, but Barnett,

'Disheartened' Murray Still Tops Hickman Co.

A win is a win is a win is a win, no matter how bad one plays in accomplishing it. And that fact, says Rick Fisher, is the best that can be said about last night.

Fisher watched his Murray High girls team up its season record to 8-5 via a 39-38 squeaker over Hickman County, despite 33 percent shooting from the field and a miserable 27 percent from the free-throw line.

"I'm a firm believer that you play like you practice, and our practices haven't been something a coach likes to see," said Fisher, the Murray High coach.

Tonya Alexander banked in a short jumper to give the Tigers the 39-38 edge, but still with well over a minute remaining. Both teams missed bonus free throw attempts before Hickman County regained possession and had a chance to win with four seconds left.

"Instead of playing good defense and forcing them to take a bad shot," said Fisher, "we just let one of their players dribble all the way up and get off a decent shot. We were just lucky she didn't hit it. That's what I'm talking about when I say a lack of intensity on our part."

The final score was nearly a repeat of the squads' first meeting this season: a 45-42 Murray High win.

Fisher thinks the Tigers' lackluster performance may have also been a result of a disappointing loss to Mayfield. "We were a little disheartened after that one," he said. "But we are going to have to learn that we have to play full time every game if we are to win."

Guard Jaina Washer scored 14 points to lead all scorers. Alexander added eight points for the winners, and Jann Washer and Candy Jackson chipped in six each.

Murray begins a string of four games next week by hosting Marshall County

Monday, Thursday, they join the Tiger boys for a doubleheader at home against Fulton County. Friday they travel to Marshall County before hosting Tilghman to a 1:30 p.m. makeup game Saturday.

Tiger frosh 40, Hickman 23 David McMillen's 19 points keyed Murray's burst past the Falcons that upped its worst mark to 4-7.

The Tigers led just 6-4 after a quarter but outscored 16-10 over the next two periods to jump ahead 26-14.

Walter Payne added 10 points and David Schmalz, 7.

Ronald Hopkins Signs With MSU

Ronald Lee Hopkins, a speedy tailback from Lake County High School in Tip-topville, Tenn., has signed a football grant-in-aid with Murray State University.

The 6-0, 175-pound Hopkins rushed for an impressive 1,350 yards and 24 touchdowns to lead his squad in total offense. Hopkins played a significant role in helping lead coach Cliff Sturdivant's Lake County team to an 11-2 record and the Class A semi-finals.

Hopkins won All-West

Tennessee and All-District honors and earned Class A All-State mention his senior season.

A regular on the Lake County basketball team, Hopkins has been clocked at 04.6 over 40 yards. Hopkins joins 6-5, 245-pound defensive tackle Edgar Ray Currin as the second Lake County product signed by Murray state for next season.

Hopkins represents the 14th addition to the Racer roster for next season.

Cohoon's Fast Start Helps Lakers Break Losing Skid

SEDALIA, Ky. — It was just a matter of time before Calloway County put together four good quarters of basketball, says coach Clayton Hargrove. It would have been hard put to better the four last night.

David Cohoon popped in five straight 15-footers to open a 10-0 Laker lead and went on to score a season-high 28 points in leading Calloway to an 85-67 thumping of Sedalia.

The victory snapped a six-game Laker losing streak and upped their season mark to 4-12. Sedalia fell to 1-10.

"This is, by far, our most consistent game," said Hargrove, who saw his team compile 22, 21, 22 and 20 points in the respective quarters.

"We pressed, and it bothered them. And we didn't have much trouble with their pressure," Cohoon, a 6-1 senior, scored 12 points in the first quarter on the strength of his five-shot spree and finished with 18 in the first half as the Lakers roared to a 43-25 edge.

The two teams each scored 42 points in the second as Calloway coasted to the triumph.

Sedalia's only win came Jan. 16 against Wingo, but it had little trouble motivating itself for that one. The winner of the games receives the "Windella" trophy in the teams' annual clashes.

Ricky Garland and Craig Rogers added 12 and 10 points, respectively for Calloway, and Stan Rushing tossed in eight.

Joe Ben Pritchett paced Sedalia with 16 points, followed by Kenny Davidson with 13, Steve Lamb with 11 and Jimmy McBee with 10.

The Lakers outrebounded the hosts by a huge 52-26 margin and were led by Cohoon's 11 and Garland's 10 in that department.

"We hadn't played since last Tuesday (a loss at Heath Jan.

23), but we still came out ready to play," Hargrove said. "Sometimes it is hard to motivate yourself when so many games are being cancelled because of the weather. We never really know when we will get to play."

The Lakers host Farmington in Jeffrey Gymnasium tonight before traveling to Paducah Tilghman Saturday.

Arkansas, Lemons 'Shove' Way Past 11th-Ranked Texas 68-58

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Eddie Sutton and Abe Lemons met at midcourt in a real Texas-size shootout, tempers exploding.

"You're too good to take cheap shots at us," Sutton told Texas player John Moore, triggering a harsh reaction from Lemons.

Pretty soon the basketball coaches were knocking into each other in full horrified view of the near-16,000 fans at the Super Drum arena in Austin.

"He has no right to talk to one of my players like that," said Lemons after his 11th-ranked Texas Longhorns lost a rough 68-58 battle to Sutton's No. 19 Arkansas Razorbacks Thursday night.

Lemons naturally had a different view of the game. He saw Arkansas getting away with murder throughout the night.

"We can't play with people hanging all over us," Lemons said.

unlike other coaches and players this season, didn't attribute his team's fine shooting to the fieldhouse, goals or backboards.

"We got the high percentage shot," he said. "Murray is down, they don't have much quickness, so we were able to get the shot we like to take. And the fact that we have hit 53 percent our last seven games doesn't hurt any."

Murray returns to Ohio Valley Conference action Monday at Cookeville against Tennessee Tech. The Racers rank last in the league with a 1-5 mark.

What got Lemon angry in the first place was what Sutton said to Moore as the teams walked off the court at half-time. Sutton felt that the Texas players were unduly rough on his team, especially Moore.

"I probably shouldn't have said it and I apologize," a cooled-off Sutton said later.

Lemons wasn't so magnanimous, however.

"Sutton has no call to do that to one of my players," noted the Texas coach. "He called Moore a dirty player and shoved him. That's not his place. No coach has a right to do something like that."

From his side of the fence,

FCA Chapter Set To Meet

A meeting of the Murray chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Racer Room of Roy Stewart Stadium.

Dan McCall, now a chaplain at Fort Campbell, will be the featured speaker. All All-South high school football player from Tennessee, McCall went on to All-SEC honors at Vanderbilt and earned eight letters in football and track.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Gulp...A Modest Star

Despite '79 Heroics, Bradshaw Doesn't See Himself As Pro Football's Greatest

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK — Found: A modest super star. Bronze him. Preserve him in oils. Store him behind an impenetrable steel wall under lock and key. He is an endangered species.

"No, I don't think I am the best quarterback in pro football," Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw insisted under intensive prodding. "I see no time in the future that I will be able to say I am the best quarterback."

The strapping field general of the Steelers was in New York Thursday to receive a new automobile from Sport Magazine for being the Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XIII.

It was the same loose, easygoing, unpretentious Bradshaw who directed the Steelers through a 14-2 campaign, two playoff victories and a dazzling 35-31 victory over the defending champion Dallas Cowboys in Miami.

Completely unspoiled. His self-effacing image is hard for newsmen to swallow. After all, they have not been indoctrinated in such flagrant modesty from heroic sports figures.

"When I was at Louisiana Tech, nobody knew I existed," he said. "I wasn't anything special and didn't have to deal with the national media. I played a game and then went fishing. That was fine. It suited my personality. Then I came up to the Steelers. It took me a long time to adjust.

When I was benched in 1975, it really deflated me. I was bitter. I suffered from self-pity. Then there was that long, hard road back. I think this year I learned consistency."

Southwest Girls Capture No. 8; Boys Fall 48-33

Laurie Malcolm came off the bench to score six second-half points and help the Southwest Calloway girls to a 34-33 victory over Hickman Middle last night in junior-high basketball action.

Southwest trailed 21-13 at the half after having fallen behind by as many as 14, but the Lakers rallied for their eighth win in nine tries.

Donna Coles sank four-of-five free throws in the second half to aid the Lakers' comeback. Lynn Cothran led all scorers with 14 points, while Cindy Anderson chipped in eight.

In the boys game, Jeff Butterworth's 18 points weren't enough to stop Hickman from grabbing a 48-33 triumph.

Chris Sheridan scored nine points for the Lakers, now 1-8, followed by Pat Hicks, Darren Howard and Monty Ray, all with four each.

AN INVESTMENT
IN YOUR FUTURE

What Is A Church?

The word, church, has two meanings. It refers, first, to a building that is used for religious services. As such, it can be either very large or very small. It need not look like a church, it is necessary only that it be a place where one can worship God.

The word, church, also refers to a group of people that share a belief in God. As we read in Matthew 18:20, "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." This is the word church in its truest sense.

Attend church, wherever you are, this week.

Poetry Readings

The English Department each semester offers a series of poetry or fiction readings. Such poets as Stanley Plumley, Philip Dacey, Marvin Bell, and Kelly Cherry have appeared in the past. The schedule and poets for the spring semester have not been announced, but there will be at least three readings by nationally-acclaimed poets or novelists. Traditionally, there is a reception after each reading so that people attending the reading may talk with the poets in an informal situation. For specific details:

Familiar Faces Will Be In FOP Show Sunday

Two familiar faces on television in the country and gospel music field will appear in a show sponsored by the Murray Fraternal Order of Police. The two, Ronnie Page and Eddie Hill, will appear at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 4, in the Calloway County High School gymnasium.

agency in Nashville and is involved in the booking and management of several artists. Some of those artists are scheduled to appear along with him and Hill.

Page is still a member of the

famous Chuck Wagon Gang, but he is probably best remembered for his emcee duties on "Heaven's Jubilee" and "The Old Time Singing Convention."

One of the groups which is scheduled to perform with the pair will be CornerStone, a unique duo with a middle-of-the-road gospel sound.

Admission to the show will be $2.50 for adults, and children under 12 will be admitted free. Tickets are available at the police department.

duties on "Country Junction" when he was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage about 10 years ago. His recovery has been slow, and he is now confined to a wheelchair.

"Country Junction" gave many stars their start. Among them were Dolly Parton and Jerry Reed.

Page, who hosted the gospel music programs from their inception at Channel 5, now owns a Music Row talent FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Harry J. Rothgerber Jr. of Louisville has been named by Gov. Julian Carroll to the Kentucky Parole Board.

Rothgerber, 31, chief juvenile defender in the Jefferson District Public Defender's Office, will fill the unexpired term of Carl Ousley Jr., who died in November.

Parole Board members are paid $31,000 annually. Rothgerber's term will end March 1, 1981.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE PLAY — Sarah Collier of Lorrain, Ohio, standing, and Rhonda Hertz of Wood River, Ill., kneeling, are shown in a scene from the Murray State University Theatre production of "And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little." The play, which deals frankly with adult subject matter, will run from Feb. 22-24 at the University Theatre on the first floor of the Fine Arts Building.

University Theatre Schedules Three Productions

The Murray State University Theatre has scheduled three productions for the spring semester, and all three can be seen within an eight-week period.

The first production, which will begin Feb. 22 and run through Feb. 24, will be Paul Zindel's "And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little." On March 29, nationally acclaimed Actor's Theatre of Louisville will visit Murray State, bringing "Gold Dust," a witty musical based on "The Miser" by Moliere. The final production of the season will be another musical, "Guys and Dolls," by Loesser and Burrows. This show will run April 19-21.

"Miss Reardon," to be directed by Robert E. Johnson, is set in Manhattan in the 1970s. The play was a success on Broadway, starring Julie Harris and Estelle Parsons. According to Johnson, the play is touching and often wildly funny, probing deeply into the tortured relationship of three sisters. The play deals frankly with adult subject matter and is recommended for mature audiences.

This production of "Miss Reardon," now in its second week of rehearsal, will combine three leading ladies of past University Theatre productions.

Catherine Reardon, the high school assistant principal who "drinks a little," will be played by Sue Hill of Yuma, Ariz. She played the title role in "Medea" in October.

Catherine's sister, Anna, is a victim of mental illness. This character will be portrayed by Rhonda Hertz of Wood River, Ill. Ms. Hertz played Hedda Gabler in the spring 1978 production of the same name.

The third sister, Ceil, is a

Khomeini Ponders Next Move As Crowds Cheer, Army Waits

By ROBERT H. REID
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Tens of thousands of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's followers surrounded his headquarters and cheered him today as the leader of Iran's revolution prayed and pondered his next move while Prime Minister Shapur Bakhtiar's government and the army marked time.

The frantic crowd chanted "Hail Khomeini!" and "God is Great!" But "Islamic police" organized by his local aides kept them from touching the 78-year-old religious leader as he walked from the Moslem girls' school he is using as his headquarters to a nearby building for Sabbath prayers.

Later he appeared at a window and waved to the crowd as aides led him in chanting "Death to the Pahlavi dynasty" of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

Several blocks away, 100 soldiers in battle dress with water cannons guarded the home of the Majlis, Iran's Parliament, but no hostile demonstrators approached the building.

Following his triumphant return from France Thursday after more than 14 years of exile, the Shiite Moslem patriarch was flown by army helicopter to the house of a "friend or relative" in central Tehran, where he had dinner and spent the night, aides said.

Although more than a million Iranians gave the ayatollah a frenzied welcome home, there were no reports of political bloodshed Thursday for the first time in weeks.

Speaking at the Tehran cemetery where many of those killed in the past year of riots against the shah are buried, Khomeini told his jubilant supporters he would "establish a government with the backing of this nation."

He again denounced the monarchy, the Bakhtiar cabinet, the Parliament and the many foreign advisers brought to the country by the shah to advance his Westernization program.

"There cannot be a country with two governments so the illegal government has to get out," said the ayatollah, who contends that because the monarchy and Parliament are illegal, the government which the shah appointed and Parliament confirmed is also illegal.

Khomeini's goal is to remake Iran into an Islamic republic with a government controlled by himself. He had been expected to announce plans for a Revolutionary Council to set up a provisional government, but one of his chief local aides, Mehdi Bazargan, said other steps were planned. He did not explain them.

special session called by Lt. Gov. Thelma Stovall when Gov. Julian Carroll was out of state last November.

In committee action, the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee continued chipping away at state agency programs in its effort to finance proposed tax reductions.

The committee apparently intends to chop more from the state budget than Gov. Julian Carroll has proposed. The governor advanced his own plan to the General Assembly Wednesday night.

The committee was skeptical about the state Revenue Department's estimate that it would need $1.5 million to administer proposed property tax legislation, and it balked at the governor's recommendation that $7 million for improvement of state salaries be eliminated from the budget.

school superintendent. Sarah Collier of Lorrain, Ohio, who played Annie Sullivan in the December production of "The Miracle Worker," will play Ceil.

Other cast members are Nada Thomason, Murray; Joe Dossett, Island; Cindy Wyatt, Benton; and Jim Trevor, Hoffman Estates, Ill. Ms.

Thomason will make her debut as Fleur Stein, high school counselor. Dossett will play Fleur's husband, Bob. This is Dossett's eighth role at University Theatre.

Ms. Wyatt will play Mrs. Pentran, the nosy wife of the building's superintendent. Trevor will be the delivery boy. He was last seen as the Jester in the Children's Theatre production of "Many Moons."

The set design is by David Davis of Owensboro. Davis has designed many of the settings in his four years at Murray State, including "Picnic," "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," "The Red Shoes," "Twelfth Night" and "Hedda Gabler."

Admission to the show will be $3 or by season ticket. Curtain time is 8 p.m. University Theatre is on the first floor of the Fine Arts Building.

State Backs Down; Gives Couple Right To Adopt

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer
MADISON, Wis. (AP) —

Barbara and Gordon Ray say they gained a victory for fat people when the state backed down and said they had as much right as thinner folks to adopt a child.

The state Thursday suspended a rule which barred the couple from adopting a child because they are overweight.

"I think we've served a function in getting the rules changed," said Gordon Ray. "I'm happy we could do some good for other so-called fat people."

The couple, both 28, began their efforts to adopt two years ago after doctors said they would probably never have children.

Social workers told Gordon, 6-foot-2 and 215 pounds, and Barbara, 5-foot-9 and 210 pounds, that she had to lose 40 pounds and he 25 pounds before they could be considered as adoptive parents.

Reports of the obesity rule triggered a legislative investigation, criticism of the rule from portly Gov. Lee S. Dreyfus and suspension of the order by Wisconsin Health and Social Services Secretary Donald Percy.

Percy said he issued a directive that obesity should be ignored in state adoption proceedings except at the recommendation of physicians. He promised the Rays' application would be considered.

Percy cautioned that the Rays, certified earlier as healthy by doctors, must meet all other adoption criteria. He said one in 25 couples who apply actually receive a child.

Percy, who said the obesity rule had been implemented inconsistently on a regional basis throughout the state, defended the philosophy behind the rule but said he has nothing personal against fat parents.

"Clearly obesity is a health problem," he said. "Some of my best friends are fatter than they should be, but they are fine parents."

The Rays were optimistic about their chances of adopting a child, and have said they are willing to take in an older child rather than wait for an infant.

"I'm afraid to feel too much until we get the actual adoption process going," Barbara Ray said. "We've had too many letdowns."

"We're very optimistic about our chances," her husband said. "We'll wait indefinitely, and we feel we have a 100 percent chance as long as we wait."

Teng Continues To Needle Soviets

ATLANTA (AP) — Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping, working his way across America, shaking hands and provoking demonstrations, continues to needle the Soviet Union.

His tour was to take him to Houston today for a visit to the Johnson Space Center and a ride in a pilot-training simulator for the space shuttle.

Teng also can expect demonstrations in Houston — a sister city of Taipei, Taiwan's capital — similar to the protests by pro-Mao and pro-Taiwan groups that he has seen in Washington and Atlanta.

In the Georgia capital Thursday, Teng added more fuel to the controversy he has started with his tough anti-Soviet talk.

"The danger of world war remains. Hegemonism is the biggest threat to international peace and security. Historical experience tells us that peace is not secured by prayer alone," Teng told a luncheon audience of 1,400 Atlanta businessmen.

"It is imperative to oppose and contain hegemonism and upset the strategic plans of the warmongers. China and the United States ... have reaffirmed that each is opposed to efforts by any other country to seek hegemony."

A joint press communique, issued just before Teng left Washington for Atlanta, said that President Carter and Teng reaffirmed their opposition to "hegemony" but did not mention the Soviet Union.

China uses "hegemony" to describe Soviet expansionist policies.

It was Teng's third major blast at the Soviets during his trip, and Tass, the official Soviet news agency, accused him of slander and trying to undermine chances of a SALT agreement between the Soviets and the United States.

Tass said the Carter administration should clarify its position on Teng's remarks, a request which Soviet ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin repeated in person to Secretary of State Cyrus Vance Thursday.

Two Reasons Why It's Good Business To Advertise In the Murray Ledger & Times

Viewers Have Trouble Recalling Commercials

The marketing research division of the Houston Chronicle has conducted a study of the coverage provided through television commercials. The analysis concludes that although the "viewership scores alone... are respectable and somewhat comparable to the levels of recall of print ads," the high cost of TV spots does not make Houston TV commercial audiences cost-efficient.

The study said that the data collected shows that "because of TV clutter, only the most expensive and lavishly produced commercials are remembered." Responses from 2,767 persons showed that of the 732 who were watching TV between the hours of 5 and 7 p. m., 93 per cent could recall the program they were watching at the time they were phoned by interviewers.

But just 22 per cent of the viewers could recall something about the commercial they had last seen before the phone call. Sixteen per cent recalled the brand and/or store name mentioned in the last commercial, and 17 per cent remembered the action that had taken place in the ad. Only 8 per cent of the viewers could recall any other commercial besides the last one played.

The Chronicle also measured how many people were actually identifying the commercials correctly and found that only 4 per cent of the viewers correctly identified the last commercial they had seen. "Also 53 per cent of the commercials mentioned were not even run in the half-hour time span measured, indicating that the respondent had missed or forgotten all the commercials in between," the study said.

Consumers Read Newspaper Ads

A Newspaper Advertising Bureau study says that eight out of 10 shoppers brought into a store by newspaper advertising make some kind of purchase. And they spend as much on other goods as they do for the advertised items, according to the study, which was presented to the 66th Annual Convention of the National Retail Merchants Association.

The NAB measured the response to advertising for seven items in seven stores in major metro markets in the U. S. and Canada. The bureau reported that 60 per cent of the customers shopping for an item the day after the store ran a newspaper ad had seen the ad.

Among the customers attracted to the store by newspaper ads, 60 per cent bought the advertised item; 34 per cent bought the advertised item plus some other merchandise in the store; 21 per cent bought only other merchandise, and 19 per cent bought nothing.

Among all shoppers interviewed, 75 per cent said they had read a daily newspaper "yesterday." Nearly half said they watch for ads when considering buying something.

Make Money By Saving!

- How can you make money?
ANS: You can make money by gathering up all those unwanted and unneeded items that are gathering dust in your basement, attic and garage and putting them up for sale.
- How can you save money?
ANS: You can save money by taking advantage of the gigantic classified ad sale that the classified department of the Ledger & Times is having during the month of February to sell all those items you have gathered together.
- How good a business person are you?
ANS: You can prove that you are good in business by running your business advertising on the Classified Pages of The Ledger & Times during the month of February. Every fourth day your classified ad will run FREE regardless of size. This means that you save the entire cost of your ad every fourth day. Prices remain the same as usual and you receive all the usual discounts. If you are a regular customer of the classified section and your advertising is already scheduled for February you will automatically receive the benefits from this sale.
- What are the details of this sale?
ANS: The sale is open to everyone.

The Sale is open to everyone, for every section on the classified page, small reader ads or classified display ads as long as they meet the following requirements:

- ✓ Ads must run three consecutive days.
 - ✓ No changes will be made in copy.
 - ✓ Paid days will run first.
 - ✓ No rebate will be given if ad is cancelled before expiration.
- All standard rates on classified display and classified ads will remain in effect.

Let A REALTOR® Sell Your Home

Selling your home takes time and effort — natural resources it pays to conserve. And you could lose more than the commission you want to save if you don't know what you're doing.

How do you set a realistic selling price? Is it safe to open your home for anybody who wants to look around? Should you tie yourself down waiting for calls or visitors?

Turn these problems over to an expert — A Realtor. Realtors are the real estate agents who belong to the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS, a group of more than 500,000 real estate professionals in all 50 states. For more than 70 years, the Association has been helping REALTORS improve their knowledge, training and skills.

When you're ready to sell your home, use the pipeline that brings fast action and a fair return. Call a REALTOR FIRST.

"As Realtors, one of our most important obligations to the sellers we represent is to screen our prospects. We never send a prospect to you unaccompanied by one of our associates. We would never expect you to admit a prospect who might come to the door or call you on the phone without first checking with us. Wouldn't you feel better with your wife and children home alone under these circumstances? If a rough character comes to the door, it is difficult for your wife to refuse to show, and she can't very well tell each prospect to go away and come back when her husband is home."

Deaths and Funerals

Lloyd C. Oliver Is Dead At Age Of 65; Services Are Today

Lloyd C. Oliver, father of George Oliver of Murray, died Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lourdes Hospital, Paducah. He was 65 years of age, and a resident of 310 Parker Street, Mayfield.

Mr. Oliver was a veteran of World War II, and was a member of the Seventh and College Church of Christ. He retired from the Postal Service in 1976 after serving as a Mayfield city carrier for 23 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mildred Sisson Oliver; his mother, Mrs. Nola Oliver, Mayfield; two sons, George Oliver, Murray, and John Oliver, Mayfield; one sister, Mrs. Helen Garland, Paducah; two brothers, Gilson Oliver, Paducah, and Bob Oliver, Cookeville, Tenn.

The funeral was held this morning at 10 o'clock at the chapel of the Roberts Funeral Service, Mayfield, with W. E. Skipper officiating. Burial was in the Highland Park Cemetery there.

Final Rites Today For Harper Swift

Final rites for Harper Swift of Almo Route 1 are being held today at 2 p.m. at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Dr. Bill Whittaker officiating. The song service is by Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman Barrow with Dwane Jones as organist.

Serving as pallbearers are Gary and Phillip Thurmond, Harold and Robert Swift, Hal Mahana, Jr., and Kirk Bliss. Burial will follow in the Spring Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Swift, 88, died Wednesday at Lourdes Hospital, Paducah.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Velma Pace Swift; seven daughters, Mesdames Nadine Drinkard, Nell Dodd, Jocile Lusky, Robbie Jean Thurmond, Mary Julia Thurmond, Patsy Ruth Mahana, and Betty Lou Hook; two sons, Eldridge and Bill Swift; two sisters, Mrs. Cora Tidwell and Mrs. Lalla Lawrence; 40 grandchildren; 48 great grandchildren.

Grace Baptists To Hear Pastor Speak

The Rev. R. J. Burpoe, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. worship services on Sunday, Feb. 4, at the church, located at 617 South Ninth Street, Murray.

Dan Billington will direct the music with Dwane Jones as organist and Anita Underhill as pianist. Sunday School will be at 9:45 a.m. and the Deacons will meet at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Nursery workers for Sunday will be Faye Tefft, Don Tefft, Freda Jones, Terry Downey, and Bonnie Hale; and for Wednesday will be Joyce Underhill and Barbara Randolph.

For bus information persons may call Don Hale, 753-3063. Bus drivers will be Hoyt Wyatt, 753-3092, and Jimmy Hale, 492-8848.

On Wednesday at 7 p.m. the business meeting and youth study group will be held.

Martin's Chapel To Hear Rev. Tucker

Regular worship services will be held at the Martin's Chapel United Methodist Church, located out South 16th Street, on Sunday, Feb. 4.

The pastor, the Rev. Daniel Tucker, will speak at the 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. services.

Special music at the morning service will be "What A Day That Will Be" by the Church Choir, directed by Ralph Robertson with Ricky Cunningham as pianist.

Sunday School will follow the worship service at 10:30 a.m. with Pat Robertson as superintendent.

Mrs. Tom Manis Is Dead At Age Of 72; Funeral Is Sunday

Mrs. Tom (Myrtle) Manis of Murray Route 8 died Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Marshall County Hospital, Benton. She was 72 years of age.

Born April 22, 1906, in Greenville, Tenn., she was the daughter of the late Jim Penley and Mal Morelock Penley.

Survivors include her husband, Tom Manis; one daughter, Mrs. Shirley Cook, Lynn Grove; four sons, Harley Collins and wife, Dorothy, Winston Salem, N. C.; Gene Collins and wife, Nell, Hardin, Kenneth Collins, Amarillo, Texas, and Tommy Manis and wife, Regina, Murray.

Mrs. Manis is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Dailey Brewer, Kingsport, Tenn.; two brothers, Carson and Burley Penley, Route 12, Greenville, Tenn.; 16 grandchildren; three great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Jim Tate of Milan, Tenn., and the Rev. Jim Fortner of Murray officiating. Burial will follow in the Murray Memorial Gardens.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. today (Friday).

Sinking Spring To Hear Rev. Farmer And Dr. Huffman

The Rev. Don Farmer, field representative of the Mid-Continent Bible Baptist College, Mayfield, and the Rev. Dr. John Huffman, former minister of the First Baptist Church, Mayfield, will be the speakers at the worship services at the Sinking Spring Baptist Church on Sunday, Feb. 4.

At the 11 a.m. service the Rev. Farmer will be the speaker with the Adult Choir, directed by Tommy Scott with Mrs. Scott as pianist and Miss Judy Hughes as organist, to sing "The Savior's Name" and "He Is Risen."

Lennon Hall, deacon of the week, will assist in the service. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Walker will be in charge of children's church, and Bill Crick, 489-2521, will be the bus driver for February.

The Rev. Dr. Huffman will speak at the 7 p.m. services with the Youth Choir to present special music.

Sunday School will be at 10 a.m., Youth Choir Practice at 5:30 p.m., and Church Training at 6 p.m.

Memorial Service Planned At South Pleasant Grove

The South Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church has rescheduled its memorial service for members of the church who have died during 1978 for Sunday, Feb. 4, at 10:45 a.m. This was planned for Jan. 7, but was cancelled due to the weather conditions.

Deceased members to be honored include Mrs. Gracie Nesbitt, a member since 1914, Mrs. Tempest Clark since 1909, Camellus Erwin since 1930, Leslie V. James since 1908, Mrs. Bernus McPherson since 1923, and Con Milstead since 1904.

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. William P. Mullins, Jr., will speak on the subject, "A Christian Looks At Death" with scripture from John 14.

"How Great Thou Art" will be the special selection by the church choir, directed by Tommy Gaines with Mrs. Otto Erwin as organist and Tommy Gaines as pianist.

Sunday School will be at 10 a.m.

Oaks Country Club To Meet On Monday

The Oaks Country Club will hold its board meeting on Monday, Feb. 12, at 7 p.m. at the club, according to Tony Montgomery, president, and Norman Lane, vice-president. Montgomery and Lane said members are asked to note the change of the meeting day from Tuesday, Feb. 13, to Monday, Feb. 12.

Church Of Christ To Hear Harding College Speaker

James Savage of Memphis, Tenn., will be the guest speaker for both worship services at the University Church of Christ on Sunday, Feb. 4. The speaker, a native of Indiana, studied at Freed-

James Savage
Hardeman College, David Lipscomb College, and is currently enrolled in the Master of Theology program at Harding Graduate School in Memphis.

In partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree,

Harding students are required to conduct a practicum in a local congregation. Savage will be speaking at both worship services at the church on each of the four Sundays in February.

The general theme for all lessons of the month will be the New Testament letter to the Hebrews. After the worship services on Sunday evenings, there will be a series of individual study groups to discuss the sermon and how the book of Hebrews can be applied to modern daily living.

The University Church is pleased to be able to cooperate with Harding Graduate School in arranging to provide this directed experience for a graduate student, a church spokesman said.

Savage is married to the former Diane Powell of Milan, Tenn. He formerly served as associate minister of the East Wood Church of Christ in Paris, Tenn.

Bible classes for all ages are held each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. with worship services at 10:30 a.m. and at 6 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend all of these services, a church spokesman said.

Special Conference At Jonathan Creek

A conference for bivocational pastors (those doing secular work and pastoring a church) is being held today and tomorrow, Feb. 2 and 3, at the Jonathan Creek Baptist Assembly near Aurora.

This is for bivocational pastors serving west of a line between Owensboro and Bowling Green, according to Robert Jones, director of the Kentucky Baptist Convention's Direct Missions Department.

The conference will begin at 6 p.m. tonight (Friday) and conclude at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Conference personalities include H. C. Chiles, retired pastor of First Baptist Church, Murray; Rollin Burhans, pastor, First Church, Bowling Green; A. B.

First Security Is Robbed

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A lone masked man robbed a branch of First Security Bank here and escaped with an undetermined amount of money, police said Thursday.

The man did not display a weapon during the 3 p.m. robbery, but police tentatively were calling the incident an armed robbery Thursday afternoon.

The bandit was described as 6-feet, 160 pounds. He was wearing a nylon stocking mask and a brown knit cap, according to witnesses.
